GZ Chen, CEO of Serafim

gaming hardware, is excited to announce its presence at Gamescom 2025. The company invites content creators, journalists, and media representatives to Hall 2.1, Booth A-002, for an exclusive hands-on experience with its flagship Serafim S3 Cloud Gaming Controller, recently named Tom's Guide Best of CES 2024. Those attending will get early access to new Serafim content, live demos of the S3's capabilities, and direct access to the team behind this controller.

Serafim established itself as a pioneer in gaming peripherals, known for breakthrough innovations like the S3's world-first interchangeable ergonomic grips and a companion app that unlocks thousands of games across PlayStation, Steam, Xbox, cloud platforms, and Android including:

- Seamless cross-platform support
- Video recording and screen capture
- Social media sharing
- Exclusive member benefits

Now officially MFi-certified, Serafim ensures complete compatibility with Apple software and devices - making the S3 seamlessly playable across all major gaming platforms. The S3 delivers precision control with drift-free Hall Effect joysticks and zero-deadzone analog triggers, ensuring every movement is snappy and accurate.

At CES 2024, the controller attracted widespread media interest, with over 50 outlets speaking with the Serafim team to spotlight the S3's impressive performance and broad compatibility. This year at Gamescom, Serafim is expanding on that momentum with an immersive hands-on demo and is inviting media and creators to lend their voices in showcasing the S3 to a global gaming
