GLENDAL, AZ, UNITED STATES, August 15, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As nerve-related foot and ankle conditions become increasingly common, Foot & Ankle Specialists of Arizona is enhancing its services to address neuropathic issues that often go undiagnosed or untreated.

Nerve disorders such as peripheral neuropathy, tarsal tunnel syndrome, and Morton's neuroma can lead to chronic pain, numbness, and reduced mobility. These symptoms interfere with daily life and long-term health. The Glendale-based clinic emphasizes early diagnosis and evidence-based care to manage these complex conditions.

The clinic's approach combines clinical expertise with a range of treatment options. Depending on their condition and severity, patients may receive conservative care, minimally invasive procedures, or surgical solutions. In addition to traditional interventions, Foot & Ankle Specialists of Arizona incorporates regenerative techniques, physical therapy, and advanced tools such as laser therapy to support healing and function.

Key conditions treated include:

Peripheral Neuropathy: Often linked to diabetes or trauma, this condition involves nerve damage that causes burning or tingling pain.

Tarsal Tunnel Syndrome: Caused by nerve compression, this syndrome may mimic plantar fasciitis but requires a different therapeutic route.

A podiatrist thoroughly examines a man's ankle, assessing mobility and condition

Morton's Neuroma: A thickening of tissue near the toes that results in sharp pain, especially when walking.

Diabetic Neuropathy: A progressive complication of diabetes affecting foot nerves and increasing the risk of ulcers and injuries.
