THINGS HAPPEN
FOR YOU, NOT TO YOU!

In other words, everything happens for a reason. There are no coincidences. You were born at precisely the right moment in time, in the right place, surrounded by the right people, taught/coached/inspired by the right person throughout your entire life and you are exactly where you are meant to be right now – as insane & wrong as that seems, at times.

In other words, we've all been "preparing" since birth for the moment we're about to go into.
