"We are thrilled to bring this vital training program to the Loveland community," says Holly Capuano, Loveland Medical Assistant School Program Manager. "The demand for skilled medical assistants is rapidly growing, and our program provides a direct pathway for individuals to enter this rewarding field while making a meaningful contribution to healthcare."

The program teaches foundational skills in key medical assistant responsibilities, including anatomy and physiology, medical terminology, pharmacology, phlebotomy, EKG, and patient care. Our medical assistant courses also include hands-on training, providing students with valuable clinical skills capped by an 80-hour externship to apply learned skills under the guidance of experienced medical professionals.

Loveland Medical Assistant School empowers aspiring healthcare professionals with a fast-track, affordable path to a rewarding career. The 18-week program emphasizes hands-on learning, allowing students to gain practical experience through onsite labs at a local healthcare partner clinic. This valuable experience, combined with an 80-hour externship under the guidance of seasoned medical professionals, prepares graduates for real-world success.

Loveland Medical Assistant School is committed to making quality healthcare education accessible to all. The school offers flexible payment plans, including the option to pay in full or choose from a variety of affordable options. Students can also work with the school to create a personalized payment plan that aligns with their individual financial needs, making it possible to graduate debt-free and save significantly compared to traditional training programs.

"Opening a medical assistant school in Loveland aligns with our commitment to make career-focused education more accessible," said Chris Lofton, chief executive officer at Zollege. "We're proud to support local students as they gain the skills and confidence to enter a fast-growing and essential profession."

Once students complete their certification through Loveland Medical Assistant School, they're eligible to find employment in a variety of outpatient, clinical, hospital, or research facilities within their community.
