

In Between Octaves by Che Yung Kung Wins Bronze in A' Interior Design Awards

Che Yung Kung's Japanese Ramen House Design Recognized for Excellence in Interior Space and Exhibition Design

COMO, CO, ITALY, August 14, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly respected recognition in the field of interior design, has announced Che Yung Kung as a winner in the Interior Space and Exhibition Design category for their outstanding work titled "In Between Octaves." This Japanese Ramen House design has been awarded the Bronze A' Design Award, acknowledging its exceptional creativity, functionality, and overall design excellence.

The Bronze A' Interior Space, Retail and Exhibition Design Award holds significant relevance for the interior design industry, as it showcases innovative solutions that align with current trends and needs. Winning designs demonstrate their ability to advance industry standards and practices while offering practical benefits to users and stakeholders. This recognition highlights the importance of pushing boundaries and exploring new possibilities within the field of interior design.

In Between Octaves by Che Yung Kung stands out for its skillful incorporation of oriental elements within a westernized shopping mall setting. The design features a carefully crafted grid sequence, with a central axis running through the space, creating a harmonious relationship between new and old parallel axes. The use of hand-written calligraphy lanterns to frame the outer kitchen and dining areas adds a unique musical score-like quality to the space, enhancing the overall ambiance.

Receiving the Bronze A' Design Award serves as a motivating force for Che Yung Kung to continue pushing the boundaries of interior design. This recognition not only validates the excellence of In Between Octaves but also inspires the team to further explore innovative design solutions that positively impact the industry and the lives of those who experience their spaces. It encourages a continued pursuit of excellence and a commitment to creating meaningful and impactful interior environments.
