Ben Quick CEO

The NFT Marketplace Inc. (OTC: NFTM) today announced that its wholly-owned subsidiary, Strong Invest AI Ltd. (“Strong AI”), has partnered with Counselling in the Community, a respected Blackpool-based charity, to open a new AI-enhanced mental health support centre. This marks a major milestone in combining advanced artificial intelligence with proven grassroots counselling services.

The newly launched Strong AI Centre in Blackpool is fully operational, providing affordable, in-person mental health support powered by Strong AI’s proprietary technology platform. The system streamlines client intake, optimises appointment scheduling, and matches clients to the most suitable counsellor — helping practitioners reach more people without sacrificing human connection.

The centre is now in a structured data-gathering phase, collecting client feedback and clinical outcome data to research the benefits of attending a Strong AI facility. The findings will guide further UK rollouts, with priority given to communities facing the greatest need for accessible mental health care.

Ben Quick, CEO of Strong AI, said:

“This partnership proves that AI can enhance — not replace — the human side of mental health care. Our mission is to improve access, cut waiting times, and help more people get the right support faster. Working with an established charity allows us to combine local trust with global-scale innovation.”

This is the first live, testing of revenue-generating deployment of Strong AI’s platform, aligning with NFTM’s strategic focus on applied AI in high-impact sectors. For investors, it signals a transition from development to commercial rollout, backed by measurable community impact.
