formerly owned by the late Richard

Lewis, renowned stand-up comedian, actor, and writer, has been thoughtfully designed to create a sense of tranquility from the moment you arrive. High walls encircle the grounds, complemented by lush landscaping and walls of glass that fill the interiors with soft natural light. A secluded front courtyard, framed by greenery, sets the tone for the peaceful atmosphere within.

6411 Tahoe Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90068

The home offers four bedrooms, with two guest rooms currently combined into a spacious bedroom and office suite. This flexible layout can easily be restored to the original configuration. The living and dining rooms exude elegance, with soaring vaulted ceilings, recessed lighting, a fireplace, and double sets of glass doors opening to stunning backyard views. The adjacent kitchen features striking quartz countertops, a center island, warm-toned wood cabinetry, and stainless steel appliances, flowing seamlessly into the spacious family room.

The master suite offers high ceilings, abundant closet space, and expansive glass doors showcasing the backyard and pool. Its spa-like bathroom includes a double shower, separate spa tub, dual vanity, and a wall-sized window revealing lush outdoor views.

The oversized backyard is the true heart of the property. Designed for both intimate relaxation and large-scale entertaining, it features a sparkling pool with dual waterfalls, filling the air with the soothing sound of flowing water. An additional gated side yard offers the perfect space for children or pets.

Ideally located near Lake Hollywood, scenic parks, and charming neighborhood streets, this private retreat combines luxury, privacy, and timeless appeal. Shown by appointment only, this is a rare chance to own a Hollywood Hills estate with a storied history.
