Joel Gotshall

"Being named to the Inc. 5000 list validates our team's dedication to redefining what clients can expect from a painting company," said Joel Gotshall, founder of Paint Rx. "When we started in 2018, our mission was simple: take the pain out of painting by providing a professional, seamless, and customer-focused experience. This recognition confirms that our approach resonates with homeowners and businesses across our service areas."

Paint Rx's success story is rooted in its unique business model and strong local presence. Unlike many competitors in the industry, the company maintains a fully in-house team of trained professionals rather than relying on subcontractors. This approach ensures consistent quality and accountability across all projects, from single-room refreshes to large commercial properties.

The company's service territory spans the coastal regions of South Carolina, including Horry, Georgetown, Berkeley, Dorchester, and Charleston Counties. Paint Rx has demonstrated particular expertise in addressing the unique challenges of coastal properties, implementing specialized techniques for exterior protection against harsh maritime conditions while preserving the distinct architectural character of historic Charleston properties.

"Our growth reflects more than just numbers," Gotshall explained. "It represents the trust we've built within our communities. Every project, whether it's refreshing a family home in Myrtle Beach or updating a commercial space in Charleston, receives the same meticulous attention to detail and commitment to excellence."

Paint Rx's comprehensive service offerings include interior and exterior painting, cabinet refinishing, drywall repair, and commercial painting solutions. The company has earned over 300 five-star reviews, maintaining BBB accreditation and active membership in the Myrtle Beach Chamber of Commerce.

The company's success is built on several key differentiators:

- A customer satisfaction guarantee backed by clear, honest communication
- Use of premium materials from industry leaders like Sherwin-Williams, Benjamin Moore, and PPG
- Transparent pricing with no hidden fees
- Over two decades of combined painting experience
- Specialized knowledge of coastal climate requirements and historic property preservation

Looking ahead, Paint Rx remains committed to its vision of being the preferred painting company in the region. The company continues to invest in professional development, sustainable practices, and innovative solutions to enhance the painting experience for clients.

"While this Inc. 5000 recognition is a tremendous honor, our focus remains on delivering exceptional results for every client," Gotshall added. "We're not just painting properties; we're building lasting relationships and contributing to the beauty and longevity of the communities we serve."

Paint Rx's inclusion in the Inc. 5000 list places it among an elite group of independent businesses demonstrating exceptional growth and resilience. Complete results of the Inc. 5000, including company profiles, can be found at inc.com/inc5000.
