

CallTeam Helps North American Businesses Grow with Qualified Leads and Booked meetings with Decision-Makers

Outbound calling agency connects companies directly with decision-makers, delivering the output of multiple sales reps at a fraction of the cost.

VANCOUVER, CANADA, August 18, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CallTeam, a global outbound calling and lead generation agency, is helping North American businesses accelerate growth by generating qualified leads and booking meetings directly with decision-makers.

Through a proven outbound calling process and a database of over 450 million verified contacts, CallTeam connects companies with the right prospects at the right time. The agency provides the output of multiple full-time salespeople at a fraction of the cost, freeing client teams to focus on closing deals instead of chasing cold leads.

"Businesses know that more conversations with qualified buyers lead to more sales. But most teams don't have the time or resources to source leads, make calls, and follow up consistently," said Alex Mendoza, a CallTeam spokesperson. "That's where we come in. We generate the leads, we make the calls, and we book the meetings — so our clients can spend their time talking to decision-makers and growing revenue."
