IBN Technologies: fund middle and back-office services

Key Challenges in Fund Operations

The hedge fund industry continues to face several recurring challenges in managing fund operations:

1. Manual processing leads to errors, slow reconciliations, and increased operational risk
2. Compliance requirements are evolving rapidly, demanding accurate and real-time reporting
3. Talent shortages in fund accounting and administration make scaling operations costly
4. Technology investments in infrastructure are often too expensive for smaller firms

IBN Technologies' Tailored Hedge Fund Support

To address these operational bottlenecks, IBN Technologies offers a full spectrum of fund middle and back-office services designed for hedge funds, fund administrators, and asset managers. Their service model focuses on delivering accuracy, agility, and automation.

- On-time NAV calculations in line with regulatory accounting guidelines
- Streamlined investor onboarding incorporating thorough due diligence
- Real-time trade execution supported by automated break and exception resolution
- Customized fee accrual processing based on waterfall models and fund performance
- Valuation solutions for hybrid strategies and alternative asset classes
- Audit-compliant books maintained with complete financial backup
- Capital account statements generated for partners with detailed reporting
- Reconciliation workflows across cash, positions, and derivative instruments
- Compliance records prepared and updated to meet shifting regulatory demands
- U.S.-based teams working in sync to deliver up-to-the-minute insights

The company leverages its proprietary tools and domain expertise to deliver operational efficiency and process standardization. Clients benefit from 24/5 support, streamlined onboarding, and a dedicated transition team to ensure minimal business disruption.

The company has built long-standing relationships with hedge funds and alternative investment firms across North America, helping clients reduce operational costs while maintaining robust compliance.

Consistent Performance for Expanding Hedge Funds

As hedge funds scale and diversify, outsourcing provides a pathway to sustained accuracy. Fund middle and back-office solutions empower operations teams to stay timely, control exposure, and maintain audit readiness.

- $20 billion administered via international fund management platforms

- 100+ hedge funds leverage external expertise for daily operations

- 1,000+ investor records handled across due diligence and onboarding

These results reflect the operational improvements firms achieve through specialized services. Outsourced frameworks allow fund managers to concentrate on scaling strategies, advancing innovation, and strengthening investor relationships—all backed by reliable execution.

Why Outsource Fund Middle and Back-Office Services

Outsourcing middle and back-office functions offers hedge funds a competitive edge by enabling them to:

1. Control costs through flexible pricing and reduced staffing burden
2. Improve turnaround time for reporting, reconciliations, and valuations
3. Reduce errors by relying on expert-led, standardized processes
4. Access skilled professionals without incurring hiring and training expenses
5. Scale operations quickly during periods of growth or fund launches

This shift toward outsourcing is helping hedge funds remain nimble and responsive in fast-moving markets.

A Strategic Move Toward Operational Excellence

As hedge funds face mounting operational challenges, many are embracing strategic outsourcing to streamline their fund workflows. IBN Technologies is helping investment firms shift from reactive to proactive operations, empowering them to focus on performance and investor relationships while entrusting routine processes to a trusted partner.

IBN Technologies' fund middle and back-office services are purpose-built to serve hedge fund firms looking to modernize without compromising control or compliance. By adopting a collaborative service approach and leveraging automation where applicable, IBN ensures hedge funds meet client demands, satisfy audit requirements, and adapt to regulatory changes — all while reducing operational complexity.

With over 900 process experts and a proven transition framework, IBN Technologies has enabled hedge funds of all sizes to gain operational visibility and strategic agility. Whether it's a startup fund seeking lean operations or a mature firm aiming to optimize performance, the company delivers process excellence at scale.
