Free Fun for All:

Admission and parking are always free, along with kid-friendly activities like the Halloween animated story walk-through, corn hole, lawn games, and countless photo ops among thousands of pumpkins, colorful fall plants, and festive décor. A huge draw at the festival is meeting Otto the Ghost, Hicks Nurseries' lovable fall mascot, who makes appearances on weekends and holidays.

Special Events:

- Giant Pumpkin Weigh-Off: Sunday, Oct. 6 – Watch as massive pumpkins from local growers compete for top honors.
- Pet Costume Parade & Contest: Wednesday, Oct. 16 – All pets welcome with prizes for various categories of costumes.

Giving Back:

Hicks continues its tradition of supporting Long Island Cares with non-perishable food donations, plus pet food and supply collections during the Pet Parade.

"Fifty years of fall festival fun and we're just getting started!" said Eleni Roselli, Director of Marketing for Hicks Nurseries. "For half a century, families have been making memories here, picking pumpkins, enjoying fall treats, and taking pictures with the legendary Otto the ghost. We cannot wait to show everyone the new things we have in store to celebrate this golden milestone."
