Affiliates are currently earning $3,000 or more per month by partnering with ShipCargo Ai to promote its nationwide vehicle transport and car shipping services.

The ShipCargo Ai affiliate program allows individuals and businesses to generate recurring commissions by referring customers who need auto transport solutions. The program is widely used by car dealership salespeople

“Our affiliate program is built for modern professionals who already interact with customers making relocation or purchase decisions,” said Kevin Parada, founder and CEO of ShipCargo Ai. “From car salespeople delivering vehicles to buyers, to real estate agents helping families relocate, affiliates are tapping into existing networks and creating new revenue streams by adding auto transport as a solution.”

The program has gained traction quickly because of its simplicity and accessibility. Affiliates earn commissions on every customer referral that books through the platform, with top performers reporting monthly earnings exceeding $3,000.

By leveraging ShipCargo Ai's nationwide network of terminals, door-to-door delivery services, and AI-powered logistics technology, affiliates are able to provide trusted solutions to both individual customers and automotive dealerships. The company's partnership with Highway.com ensures safe carrier verification and protects customers from double-broker fraud, further enhancing trust in the referral process.

"ShipCargo Ai was designed to modernize vehicle logistics for the e-commerce era," added Parada. "By extending that vision to affiliates, we're helping professionals in related industries create new income streams while ensuring customers get access to fast, safe, and technology-driven auto transport."
