

Military Broadcast Radio & Into the Weeds Podcast Bring Exclusive Gypsy Rose Blanchard Records to CrimeCon 2025

MBR & Into the Weeds bring FOIA records and prison letters from the Gypsy Rose case to CrimeCon 2025.

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, August 19, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Military Broadcast Radio (MBR) and the Into the Weeds Podcast will showcase exclusive investigative content at CrimeCon 2025, taking place September 5–7 in Denver, Colorado. Both organizations will have an official booth presence, engaging with attendees, media, and fellow true crime professionals.

Military Broadcast Radio

As a nonprofit platform dedicated to giving veterans and everyday people a voice, MBR is bringing its unique perspective and investigative expertise to one of the nation's leading true crime conventions.

We're bringing truth and nuance where headlines fall short. These records open deeper conversations about Gypsy's story, justice, and media portrayal.”

Amber Deitz, Co-Host, Into the Weeds Podcast

Spotlight on the Gypsy Rose Blanchard Case

At their CrimeCon booth, MBR and Into the Weeds will present exclusive records connected to the Gypsy Rose Blanchard case, including:

FOIA Records — Newly obtained Freedom of Information Act documents, including court filings, investigative files, and corrections records, offering fresh insights and raising new questions.

Prison Emails — For the first time at CrimeCon, attendees will be able to review Gypsy Rose Blanchard's prison correspondence. These letters, released publicly by MBR, provide an intimate look into her mindset and relationships during incarceration.

These records have already sparked widespread conversation in the true crime community, highlighting important discussions about justice, sentencing, and the role of media narratives.

Voices Behind the Mic

Amber Deitz and Alaura Flowers, co-hosts of Into the Weeds, will be on-site throughout the event to meet fans, share their investigative journey, and discuss the importance of independent research in reshaping conversations around high-profile cases.

"We're excited to bring these records to the CrimeCon community," said Amber Deitz, co-host of Into the Weeds. "Our mission has always been to uncover hidden truths and challenge the narratives that dominate headlines."
