transactions by reducing closing and servicing friction, demonstrating compliance with Fannie Mae's insurer quality and coverage standards, and helping ensure loans can be delivered and securitized without delays or exceptions.

“For our commercial customers, lenders, and WFG title agents this approval means faster, smoother closings with fewer exceptions, less remedial work, and greater certainty of execution,” said David Sallean, EVP of WFG National Commercial Title Services. “It's a powerful advantage for multifamily deals that demand both speed and compliance with Fannie Mae's requirements.”

In addition to underwriting, WFG offers robust escrow capabilities, including the ability to perform Funding Functions on behalf of its agents, as now required for Fannie Mae-financed multifamily transactions.

By working with an approved title insurer, lenders, title agents, and borrowers can avoid last-minute policy changes, reduce post-closing curative actions, and minimize settlement risk—especially in large, complex transactions. WFG’s inclusion reflects its strong financial position, national underwriting capabilities, and proven track record supporting multifamily transactions nationwide.
