

Bolt Printing Launches Secure, In-House Checkout System for Custom Apparel Orders

Bolt Printing unveils a self-contained, firewall-protected checkout system — faster, safer, and built to deliver on its Low Cost, High Quality Promise.

BROOKFIELD, CT, UNITED STATES,
August 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Bolt Printing has launched a major upgrade to its online ordering platform: a secure and simple checkout system built entirely in-house. Unlike most printing companies that rely on third-party platforms, Bolt develops and manages all of its technology internally — keeping customer data safe behind its firewall while streamlining the process with fewer clicks and faster turnaround.

At Bolt, we’ve always believed the best way to serve our customers is to build things ourselves — from apparel to technology.”

Lana Corsano, Founder & CEO, Bolt Printing

“At Bolt, we’ve always believed the best way to serve our customers is to build things ourselves — from apparel to technology,” said Lana Corsano, Founder & CEO of Bolt Printing. “That’s why our new checkout is both secure and simple. Customers can order faster, safer, and with confidence.”

The upgraded checkout reflects Bolt’s core philosophy:

Secure – All sensitive data remains inside Bolt’s firewall, never passed to third-party processors.

Simple – A smoother, more intuitive process reduces clicks, errors, and delays.

Built by Bolt – Like its in-house apparel manufacturing, Bolt’s technology is designed and maintained entirely by its own team.

This approach underscores Bolt Printing’s Low Cost, High Quality Promise. By owning every step — from platform design to production — the company ensures transparency, speed, and trust at
