Texas Education Agency (TEA) announced the 2024-2025 state accountability A-F ratings and Evolution Academy Charter School District received an A rating, with an overall score of 91. Evolution Academy Beaumont received an A Rating for the fifth consecutive accountability cycle with a score of 92. Evolution Academy Houston received an A Rating with a score of 92 for the third time of four accountability cycles. Evolution Academy Richardson continues to make great strides in obtaining a B Rating, with an improved score of 89. In addition to receiving an Academic "A" District Rating, Evolution Academy Charter

School also earned an "A" in financial accountability, earning a Superior FIRST Accountability Rating.

Schools and districts are graded on three criteria: student achievement, student progress and how well the school is closing its learning gaps. Student achievement and progress weigh the most and STAAR results are how the agency measures progress. Students are tested on different subjects: reading, math, science and social studies.

College, career and military readiness (CCMR) remains a priority as the district celebrates these ratings and is revitalized in its mission to help students achieve academic, social and career success. Earlier this year, The District also announced the launch of its Graduate Now Texas-Flex Path program, an innovative online program designed to provide students 14-26 with a flexible, student-centered approach to earning their high school diploma. This initiative ensures that education remains accessible and achievable for students facing personal, academic, or financial barriers and is specifically tailored for students who are:

□ Behind in core subjects and need an accelerated pathway to graduation.

- At risk of dropping out due to personal or academic challenges.
- Seeking to re-engage in their education after leaving school.

Through this program, students can customize their learning schedules to accommodate work, family responsibilities, and personal circumstances. It allows them the chance to pursue their education without compromising other essential aspects of their lives. With 24/7 access to coursework, dedicated academic support, and an adaptable learning environment, students are encouraged to complete their education on their terms.

“We are proud of the progress on all of our campuses,” said Cynthia Trigg, founder and superintendent of Evolution Academy Charter School. “Our focus is always on students, and we remain committed to providing the resources and opportunities they need to succeed academically and post-secondary.”
