A Labor of Love—And Laughter

Shenanigans on the Road: The Nichols Family's U.S. Adventures isn't just a story about a family—it's a story by a family. Co-authored by Simona Nichols, a mom from the Panhandle of Florida, and six out of her seven children, this series is the result of years of collective imagination, late-night brainstorming, and genuine lived experience. Every page is infused with the humor, heart, and high-energy spirit that only comes from a crew who's truly lived the journey.

Every mission is easier when I believe in myself and remember that kindness makes me strong...”

Daniel

“We wanted to create something that felt real—messy, hilarious, and full of the kind of moments families

remember forever,” says Simona Nichols. “From the first brainstorm to the final edit, every member of our family pitched in, helping to shape the stories, the jokes, and the adventures. It's a project that brought us even closer together, and we hope it brings just as much joy to families who read it."
