Change, the nonprofit initiative founded by Jeffrey Smith, JD, LLM, CRCP, IACCP, CRM, founder and Managing Partner of LawVisory, entrepreneur, and philanthropist to drive meaningful development across Africa, is proud to announce a strategic partnership with Hon. Atupele Muluzi, one of Malawi's most dynamic next-generation leaders.

This is about empowering Malawians with dignity, opportunity, and economic independence. We believe this partnership can showcase what a new chapter for Africa truly looks like.”

Jeffrey Smith

Through this partnership, the Movement for Change will help bring international focus to Malawi — a nation rich in potential, but currently burdened by economic stagnation, rising poverty, and youth unemployment.

Hon. Muluzi's Business First strategy puts job creation, investment attraction, anti-corruption, and digital transformation at the center of a bold plan to modernize Malawi's economy and empower its people. Together with Smith and Movement for Change, the campaign will:

- Highlight Malawi's rare earth minerals and green energy potential
- Introduce the country's digital vision, including blockchain and metaverse innovation
- Activate diaspora communities and global donors
- Engage youth through programs like the Voice of Change Festival in the Metaverse

"We are standing behind a vision that is bigger than politics. This is about empowering Malawians with dignity, opportunity, and economic independence," said Smith. "We believe this partnership can showcase what a new chapter for Africa truly looks like."

Supporters can donate to fund the campaign's educational webinars, virtual festivals, and regional activations — all designed to ensure Malawians are informed, inspired, and ready to vote for a new era.
