Defensor S – Gaming Chair with Advanced Adjustable Lumbar Support

The Defensor S is built to protect the back and sustain comfort through extended sessions. At its core is the PushBack Advanced Lumbar Support System, which fine-tunes the pressure on the lower back to maintain natural spinal alignment and relieve strain over time. Its seat has been reworked to be deeper and wider, distributing weight more evenly while offering greater stability across a variety of sitting styles.

Premium comfort continues with high-density molding foam that conforms to the body, paired with a magnetic memory foam neck pillow that adjusts to exact preferences. The 4D folding armrests, initially developed and first tested in esports, can shift or fold away entirely for maximum freedom of movement, while optional velvet sleeves add softness. Upholstered in breathable leather-like fabric that resists wear yet feels supple to the touch, the Defensor S balances durability with a premium, organic feel. A steel base with oversized wheels provides lasting strength, complemented by a convenient back pocket for storage.

The Defensor S comes in Army Green, Navy Blue, and Jet Gray, and will be available starting this October at US$329.
