Award-winning actress Viola Davis recently celebrated her 60th birthday at Casa Oliver, a beachfront villa in San José del Cabo managed by Sun Cabo Vacations. The milestone occasion adds to a growing list of high-profile visits to the region, where private villas are increasingly chosen for their privacy, space, and personalized services.

Casa Oliver, where Davis celebrated, is a 17,000-square-foot estate located directly on the beach. The villa includes seven bedrooms, a private spa, gym, theater, and a 100-foot infinity pool overlooking the Sea of Cortez. Its size and amenities make it suitable for hosting both family gatherings and milestone events, offering guests the chance to stay together under one roof while enjoying the privacy of a gated home.

Viola Davis is not the only celebrity guest to have chosen a Sun Cabo villa.

In downtown Cabo San Lucas, Villa La Datcha has also hosted long-time Sun Cabo client Jessica Simpson. Known for its bold design and location in the heart of the city, La Datcha combines accessibility with seclusion, providing a balance that appeals to well-known visitors and travelers seeking privacy alike.

The Palmilla community has also drawn celebrity guests. Casa Roca de Pájaro, with its five bedrooms, oceanfront views, and direct beach access, has become a popular choice for private retreats. Nearby, Casa Catrina accommodates up to 12 guests and is recognized for its panoramic ocean views and spa-style features. Both villas offer large terraces and pools, creating spaces suitable for group stays and family travel.

Other Palmilla properties include Casa Elije, a 30,000-square-foot estate with expansive terraces, a private theater, gym, infinity pool, and full staff, and Casa Koll Estate, a 15,000-square-foot villa that combines multiple guest suites, landscaped gardens, and a prime beachfront setting. These estates illustrate how villas in Los Cabos can serve as private destinations for those who prefer space and exclusivity over resort settings.

Puerto Los Cabos has similarly hosted its share of high-profile visitors. Casa Milagro, a six-bedroom hacienda-style villa, features a Spanish courtyard, detailed interiors, and a saltwater infinity pool with a swim-up bar. Casa Oliver, where Davis marked her milestone birthday, has also welcomed other celebrity guests and has served as the backdrop for private celebrations and gatherings.

Sun Cabo also manages a few Ritz-Carlton villas. One of the most notable, Enclave West Villa #17, accommodates up to 18 guests with modern interiors, expansive terraces, and sweeping ocean views. The property includes cook and butler services for breakfast and lunch, reflecting the trend toward combining the comfort of a private residence with the convenience of hospitality services.

In Punta Ballena, Villa Mareas provides a range of amenities including a home theater, wine cellar, gym, and spa-style features. Casa Carreta, another villa in the same community, offers six bedrooms, a private casita, infinity pool, hot tub, firepit, and access to the Punta Ballena Beach Club. These villas highlight the variety of options available to groups of different sizes and preferences.

From milestone birthdays to private retreats, Sun Cabo Vacations continues to see its properties selected by travelers seeking discretion and tailored service. The combination of private estates, concierge support, and beachfront locations has positioned Los Cabos as a destination not only for traditional vacationers but also for celebrities and high-profile visitors looking for a private space to gather.
