Jonathan Deleon

At the helm of Next Level Marketing is Jonathan, a seasoned strategist who has invested over $100,000 in advanced marketing training. His leadership is defined by a philosophy of thinking like the client's customer—an approach that has driven remarkable outcomes, including $1.5 million in revenue over a single weekend for an e-commerce launch and $14 million within a month for service-based businesses. With decades of combined experience, the team has consistently proven its ability to turn marketing into measurable results.

“Our mission has always been to think like the customer,” said Jonathan, founder of Next Level Marketing Agency. “When we design strategies, build websites, or optimize for search, we ask ourselves how the end customer will experience it. That perspective is what drives the results we've been able to achieve for our clients, and it's what keeps us passionate about helping businesses grow."

The agency recently underscored its own expertise with the launch of a new website, designed to showcase its web design capabilities while ensuring optimization for both search engines and the evolving world of AI-driven search. This launch reflects their belief that a website should act as a brand's top-performing salesperson: generating leads, building trust, and converting visitors, rather than serving as just a digital placeholder.

What sets Next Level Marketing Agency apart is its holistic approach. Rather than offering isolated services, the agency builds comprehensive programs that weave together SEO, website development, and conversational marketing. Their SEO strategies are rooted in data-driven insights and enhanced with AI optimization, ensuring businesses stay competitive as search evolves.

Their website design services go beyond aesthetics, focusing on speed, functionality, and conversion. Every project is crafted with user experience and long-term growth in mind, transforming digital storefronts into revenue engines.

The agency also recognizes the power of authentic connections. Through its in-house podcast studio, Next Level Marketing provides creators, business owners, and thought leaders with professional production resources to reach audiences in meaningful, engaging ways.

Beyond execution, they also emphasize education. With personalized business coaching, founders and teams gain clarity on strategy, empowering them to understand not just the "how" but also the "why" behind their marketing decisions. This blend of done-for-you services and collaborative coaching allows clients to grow smarter while scaling faster.

While Next Level Marketing's impact is often measured in revenue growth, the agency's influence extends into the community. By opening their podcast studio to local entrepreneurs and creators, they encourage dialogue, storytelling, and brand building at the grassroots level. Their commitment to treating client businesses as their own has earned them trust across industries, further solidifying their reputation as both partners and educators in the digital space.

Next Level Marketing Agency continues to raise the bar for what businesses can expect from a marketing partner: real strategy, relentless execution, and results that last. By combining SEO built for the AI era, custom web design, and innovative channels like podcast marketing, the agency ensures brands don't just keep up with the digital landscape—they lead it.
