“Payroll Vault stood out as a proven, boutique-style franchise that aligns with my values, delivering trusted service and building strong relationships,” Tuttle said. “I was ready to take the leap into business ownership and build something meaningful for my family and future.”

As an entrepreneur, Tuttle appreciates the franchise’s fully remote operating systems with 24/7 technical monitoring to support continuous operations, without the need for investment in real estate. Franchise Business Review recently recognized the franchise with seven industry awards, including “Best in Category” and “Top Franchises” as well as top honors in financial return, innovation, culture, and support for women entrepreneurs.

“Payroll Vault serves as a true partner for small and medium-size businesses, helping them navigate payroll, taxes and HR matters so they can focus their energy on growing their business,” said Oakscale Franchise Partner's President Joshua Kovacs, who manages franchise sales for the Payroll Vault brand. "As a franchise sales organization (FSO), we prepare franchisors and franchisees so they can realize their own legacy."

Tuttle said service and support convinced her to become part of Payroll Vault's growing network of financial professionals who are bringing much-needed, boutique-styled services to small-and mid-sized companies.

"There were several aspects of Payroll Vault's business model that compelled me to invest in the franchise," Tuttle said. "The brand's commitment to tailored client service, its strong reputation in the franchise world, and the support offered to franchisees were key factors. I also appreciated that Payroll Vault is recognized as a top franchise for women—this further confirmed that it was the right fit for me."

As a parent, Tuttle added that she is building a better future for the business community at large and her family as well.

"I'm a proud mother of two, and this business is more than a career move—it's a legacy I'm building for my family. My leadership style has always been people-first, and I place a strong value on customer service. I'm excited to bring that same heart-led approach into my Payroll Vault markets."
