Located at 7033 Burlington Pike, Suite 1, Florence, KY 41042, the school partners with Mortenson Family Dental, giving students direct access to a professional clinic where they gain practical, career-ready experience.

"Our mission is to provide affordable and accessible education that connects students directly with the skills they need to succeed," said Nancy West, Program Manager of Florence Dental Assistant School.

Career Training That Fits Students' Lives

Students at Florence Dental Assistant School will learn everything from dental anatomy and radiography to sterilization, chairside assisting, and administrative tasks such as billing, coding, and digital charting. The curriculum includes weekly hands-on labs inside Mortenson Family Dental, a comprehensive classroom component taught by dental professionals and a 80-hour externship, giving students real-world experience before graduation.

The school also offers flexible payment options, ensuring students can graduate debt-free and enter the workforce with confidence.

"We are proud to welcome Florence Dental Assistant School into our practice," said a Mortenson

Family Dental spokesperson. "Together, we're building opportunities for the next generation of dental professionals while serving our community."

Graduates of the program are eligible to sit for the Certified Dental Assistant (CDA) exam, opening the door to employment in clinics across Kentucky and beyond.

"It's an honor to bring this opportunity to Longview," said Chris Lofton, CEO of Zollege. "We believe education should be practical, affordable, and directly tied to career success—and this program is a reflection of that mission."
