AZ, UNITED STATES, August 30, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Salman Z. Khan, CEO of The Gideon Group, has published a LinkedIn article examining how artificial intelligence (AI) adoption is transforming organizational structures.

In the article, titled “AI Will Not Replace You – But Will Eliminate the Middle,” Khan explains that AI is less likely to replace entry-level or frontline workers and more likely to erode mid-level functions such as analysts, coordinators, and operations managers.

“This isn’t about layoffs — it’s structural change. AI is absorbing mid-level functions faster than most organizations expect,” said Salman Z. Khan.”
