ST. LOUIS, MO, UNITED STATES,
September 2, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/
-- Marking 250 Years of American History, ColoringBook.com debuts a line of commemorative educational products for youth and adults.

On July 4, 2026, the United States will observe its 250th anniversary of independence. Wayne Bell, publisher at Really Big Coloring Books®, Inc., based in St. Louis, MO, announced today, "We have begun debuting our new America's 250th Anniversary products, beginning with the educational classroom poster of American Presidents. The new line includes posters, greeting cards, story books, coloring books, notebooks, placemats, and other paper-related products; some will include music via QR codes."

President Trump described America's Anniversary milestone as the commencement of an unparalleled political journey in human history, initiated by the signing of a founding document. Under the current administration, federal, state, and local governments, private enterprises, non-profit organizations, educational institutions, and citizens nationwide are encouraged to participate in this significant event. The White House website invites all Americans to deepen their appreciation of national history, explore the country's landscapes, and foster an innovative and adventurous spirit for the future.

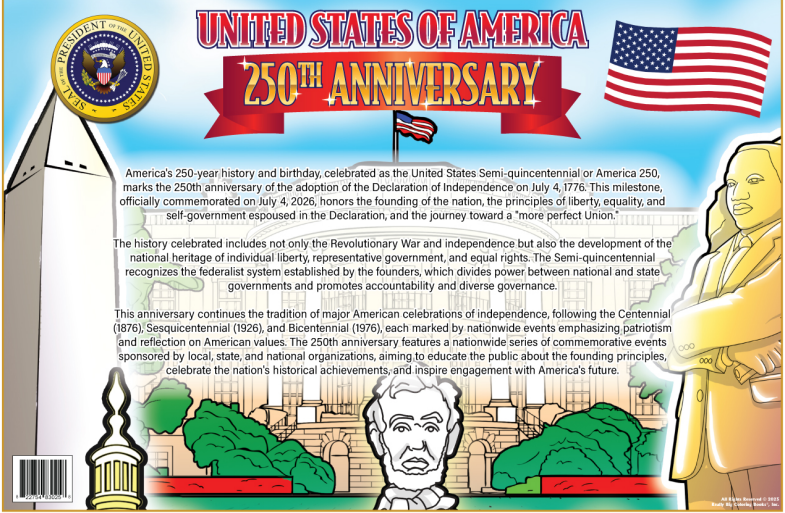

To commemorate the events leading up to July 4, 2026, ColoringBook.com and Really Big
