

EXOS Wealth Systems Inc. Unveils Amoré: A Game-Changing, AI-Powered Life Insurance Solution for Advisors and Clients

CANADA, September 4, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- EXOS Wealth Systems Inc. is set to revolutionize the life insurance industry with the launch of Amoré, an innovative, AI-powered life insurance solution underwritten by Humania Assurance. Designed to streamline the advisor experience, Amoré leverages cutting-edge artificial intelligence to simplify compliance, accelerate application processing, and enhance overall efficiency - empowering advisors to better serve their clients. Customers will also enjoy unmatched flexibility, with coverage options ranging from 5 to 40 years, ensuring personalized protection for every stage of life. Policies are issued immediately, no waiting! At this time, Amoré is available through Customplan Financial Advisors.

A standout feature of Amoré is the advisor's personalized website, allowing advisors to elevate their digital presence effortlessly. By selecting from professionally curated imagery and branding elements tailored to their target market, advisors can create a compelling, client-focused website with ease. This seamless personalization enhances trust and engagement, setting advisors apart in an increasingly competitive landscape.

"Amoré is more than just a life insurance product - it's a breakthrough in how advisors connect with and serve their clients," said Richard S. Pyper, CEO of EXOS Wealth Systems Inc. "By integrating AI and offering tailored branding solutions, we are giving advisors the tools they need to grow their business while ensuring a seamless, efficient experience for their clients."

Kevin Pledge, CEO of Acceptiv, added: "Technology is transforming the insurance industry, and with Amoré, we're making it easier for advisors to provide fast, seamless coverage to their clients. Our goal is to remove friction from the insurance process, ensuring more Canadians get the protection they need."

"This launch marks an important step in our goal to provide innovative, client-centric life insurance solutions," said Nicolas Moskiou, President and Chief Executive Officer of Humania. "By collaborating with EXOS and Acceptiv, we're not only expanding our product offerings but also delivering a digital experience that makes protecting what matters most easier and more accessible than ever."

Valerie Le Roux, Vice President, Product and Partnerships, noted: "This new platform is designed for advisors - providing them with the tools necessary to better serve clients, strengthen relationships, and grow their business. We believe this partnership will add significant value for both our distribution network and policyholders."

EXOS Wealth Systems Inc. is a forward-thinking financial technology firm dedicated to empowering advisors with digital solutions that enhance their efficiency, compliance, and client engagement.
