Fluxx Award for Educational Leadership (2025)

Awarded to Dr. Jacqueline Mohair in June 2025, this international honor presented out of Hong Kong recognized her extraordinary contributions to global education and leadership, further aligning TIUA with world-class institutions making lasting impact worldwide.

UN ECOSOC Special Consultative Status

TIUA has been actively engaged with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) since 2015 and was granted Special Consultative Status in 2021. This consultative role affirms TIUA's contributions to UN priorities in education, leadership, poverty eradication, gender equality, and sustainable development.

A Monthly Movement of Empowerment

Each month, Dr. Mohair and TIUA lead educational movements that impact lives through service, mentorship, and innovative programs. This reflects their mission to equip leaders, strengthen communities, and create opportunities across both local and international platforms.

A Legacy of Service & Global Impact

Through TIUA School of Business, Trinity Girls Network, and their affiliates, more than 50,000 families were fed during the COVID-19 pandemic. This record of service demonstrates Dr. Mohair's conviction that education and leadership must always be paired with compassion and community impact.

Her legacy also honors her late mother, Dr. Rosie Lee Perteet—a lifelong educator who was posthumously recognized for her unwavering commitment to education. Dr. Mohair continues this vision while also paying tribute to historic figures such as the late Rev. Dr. C.T. Vivian and Congressman John Lewis, whose lives embodied the transformative power of education.

More Than Recognition — Sowing Seeds of Greatness

"These recognitions are not just about me—they honor the vision, hard work, and impact of TIUA's entire network," said Dr. Mohair. "Together, we are bridging gaps, changing lives, and leaving a legacy that uplifts communities across Georgia and the globe. Education is about sowing seeds of greatness into others so they can continue their journey of learning, leadership, and service."
