

Houston DTF Transfers Expands Direct-to-Film and UV Transfer Services for DIY Creators and Wholesale Clients

HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, September 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Houston DTF Transfers LLC, a Houston-based provider of Direct-to-Film (DTF) and UV Direct-to-Film transfer solutions, announces expanded service offerings designed to meet the growing demand from individual creators and wholesale business clients throughout the region.

The company specializes in both DTF and UV DTF transfer technologies, serving a diverse client base that ranges from individual hobbyists creating custom apparel to established businesses requiring high-volume print solutions. The expansion of services includes enhanced wholesale options designed to help businesses scale their production capabilities.

Houston DTF Transfers provides transfer solutions that enable customers to create custom designs on various apparel and products. The company's DTF technology allows for detailed, full-color designs to be transferred onto fabrics, while UV DTF transfers offer additional applications for hard surfaces and specialty materials.

The company's service portfolio includes custom transfer creation for individual projects, bulk order fulfillment for businesses, and wholesale partnerships that provide other companies with reliable transfer solutions for their own production needs. These services support both small-scale personalization projects and large-scale brand merchandise production.

Located in Houston, Texas, the company serves local and regional markets with direct-to-film transfer solutions that accommodate varying order sizes and project requirements. The expansion of wholesale options reflects growing demand from businesses seeking to integrate high-quality transfer printing into their operations without investing in equipment and infrastructure.
