We love helping accounting teams be the star of a movie. Expense reporting is usually the last thing people get excited about, so ... why not flip the script? Why not make accountants the heroes?”

Vidya Ravella

Known for making expense reporting faster and easier than ever, ABUKAI is taking things one step further: putting accounting teams at the center of the story. Starting September 16, audiences can tune in every other Tuesday for a new “episode” that transforms the everyday world of expense reports into a big-screen adventure.

“We love helping accounting teams be the star of a movie,” said Vidya Ravella, Vice President of Business Development at ABUKAI. “Expense reporting is usually the last thing people get excited about - so we thought, why not flip the script? Why not make accountants the heroes?”
