

tagSpace Partners with IXS to Launch Tokenized Equity Offering via IXS Launchpad

tagSpace, a Spatial AI company, partners with IXS, a leading platform for compliant tokenized securities, to launch its upcoming equity offering.

BRISBANE, QLD, AUSTRALIA, September 9, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- tagSpace, the Spatial AI company pioneering location-anchored digital experiences, today announced a strategic partnership with IXS, a leading platform for compliant tokenized securities. Through this partnership, tagSpace will launch its upcoming equity offering on the IXS Launchpad, enabling investors worldwide to access fractionalized digital securities representing a stake in the company.

“Through a partnership with IXS Launchpad, tagSpace will offer its equity in tokenized form as a compliant, fractionalized digital security for all investors,” said Paul Martin, CEO & Founder of tagSpace. “This move unlocks an inclusive investment pathway, aligning our rapidly growing community, creators, and partners with the future value we’re building.”

-- Unlocking a New Model for Investment --

The tokenized equity structure allows both institutional and retail investors to participate in tagSpace’s growth journey in a transparent, regulated, and globally accessible format. By leveraging IXS Launchpad, tagSpace is bridging the gap between traditional equity and blockchain-enabled capital formation.

Julian Kwan - CEO & Co-Founder of IXS said: “We’re thrilled to partner with tagSpace on this milestone offering. The IXS Launchpad was designed to empower high-growth companies like tagSpace to democratize access to capital markets in a secure and compliant way.”

-- Use of Funds & Commercial Focus --

Proceeds from the TAGSP tokenized equity raise will be strategically allocated to accelerate tagSpace's commercial expansion and community growth, with a clear focus on delivering near-term impact and long-term scalability:

- Business Development: Intensify initiatives to secure onboarding of high-profile consumer brands and entertainment companies already in the pipeline, while proactively engaging new strategic partners.
- Community Engagement: Sustain and enhance growth efforts, ensuring consistent interaction and value delivery to both existing and prospective community members.
- Creator Ecosystem: Implement targeted strategies to attract and retain new creators, fostering a vibrant and innovative creator economy aligned with platform objectives.
- Product Development: Facilitate and support the delivery of roadmap-aligned software features, ensuring timely rollout of functionality to meet evolving user and market needs.
