We're proud to help strengthen the bridge between corporate partners like KeyBank and the local communities they serve."

Andrea Wolfe, President & CEO of Mass Insight

Massachusetts high schools across Hampden County, supporting over 2,500 students. The program addresses the opportunity gaps that disproportionately affect students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds, limiting their academic success and access to college and career pathways. Statewide, Mass Insight is partnered with nearly one quarter of Massachusetts public high schools.

KeyBank previously awarded Mass Insight a $15,000 grant in 2024 for the same program. During the first year of support, Mass Insight worked together with KeyBank and the Springfield Public School District to forge a relationship between the bank and the local school community. As part of this initiative, KeyBank brought three employees to Springfield High School to offer their Banking Basics financial literacy education workshop to the school's AP Economics students.

Banking Basics is part of KeyBank's Money, Me & Key program, which is designed to provide clients and members of the communities KeyBank serves—including students—with the tools and knowledge to help them make the financial moves best in line with their situation and their goals.

"We're incredibly grateful for KeyBank's continued support this year," said Andrea Wolfe, President & CEO of Mass Insight. "It's inspiring to have a partner eager to connect directly with the communities their generosity impacts. We're proud to help strengthen the bridge between corporate partners like KeyBank and the local communities they serve."

"At KeyBank, we believe financial empowerment is key to building stronger communities. This is especially true for our next generation of citizens. Our workshops cover a wide range of topics, from banking basics and how to improve your credit score to buying a car, preventing identity theft and considering home ownership. We're thankful to have such a great community partner in Mass Insight," said Matt Hummel, Connecticut/Massachusetts Market President, KeyBank.
