

Crescent City's Important Estates Auction, September 19th & 20th, will feature fine items in a wide array of categories

The 696-lot sale will feature property from the estates of William and Beverly (Gallo) Caulffield and William Prentice Farrington, both of New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, LA, UNITED STATES, September 5, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- An oil on canvas portrait painting by acclaimed British artist Jonathan Richardson (1665-1745); an oil painting by the legendary Louisiana folk artist Clementine Hunter (1887-1988); and a selection of fine watches (including Rolexes) are just part of Crescent City Auction Gallery's Important Estates Auction planned for the weekend of September 19-20.

The sale will be held online as well as live in the Crescent City showroom located at 1330 St. Charles Avenue in New Orleans, starting at 10am Central Time both days. In all, 696 lots will come up for bid, featuring property from the estates of William and Beverly (Gallo) Caulffield and William Prentice Farrington, both of New Orleans, and other fine local and regional estates.

Achille Gallo was a New Orleans-born musician, artist and marathon runner whose collection of musical instruments, gathered from around the world, is legendary. Three of his instruments are in the auction, all of them attributions: a violin made by Henry Bentin (New Orleans, 1852-1925, estimate: $800-$1,200); a violin made by Ferdinando Gagliano (Italian, 1738-1834, estimate: $500-$1,000); and a violincello made by Sebastiene Vuillaume (French, 1835-1875, estimate: $300-$600). All have cases. Gallo's descendants – the Caulffields – consigned the instruments.

The oil portrait by Jonathan Richardson is titled Portrait of Mrs. Hooper and possibly depicts Lady
