A central highlight of the 2026 program is the Alta Via 1 Self Guided Tour, one of the most famous long-distance hikes in the Italian Alps. Known internationally as AV1, the route stretches for more than 120 kilometers across the Dolomites.

SelfGuidedDolomites.com offers multiple versions of the alta via 1 self guided tour, including the full traverse as well as shorter northern and southern sections. The Alta Via has become one of the most iconic routes for travelers searching for Self Guided Hiking Dolomites experiences. These variations make it easier for international visitors to include Hiking Dolomites Self Guided adventures in their holiday plans. The company also simplifies Alta Via 1 hut booking, helping hikers secure overnight stays in the most sought-after locations along the trail.

Travelers often search for Dolomites refugio options when planning their routes, and SelfGuidedDolomites.com ensures that these authentic overnight stays are included and pre-booked as part of each Self Guided Hiking Dolomites itinerary.

Each package is designed to simplify logistics while keeping the spirit of independent adventure.
