

Horton Legal Strategies PLLC Announces CEO Lenore Horton's Acceptance Into Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses Program

New York, NY – Horton Legal Strategies PLLC is proud to announce that our Founder and CEO, Lenore Horton, has been accepted into the 46th Cohort of the Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses Program in New York City.

The Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses (10KSB) program is a highly selective initiative that equips entrepreneurs with practical business education, access to capital, and comprehensive business support services. Through an intensive curriculum designed in partnership with Babson College, the nation's top-ranked school for entrepreneurship, participants gain world-class training to accelerate growth and create jobs in their communities.

From September through December 2025, Ms. Horton will join business leaders from across the region in a rigorous series of courses and advising sessions covering leadership, finance, operations, and strategic growth planning. The program culminates in a Ceremony of Success on December 11, 2025.

"This is an incredible honor," said Lenore Horton, CEO of Horton Legal Strategies. "At HLS, we believe legal strategy should be a catalyst for growth not just a cost of doing business.

Participating in Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses allows us to sharpen our own strategies while deepening the ways we help our clients protect, manage, and expand their businesses."
