

New Book Torah for Modern Messiah Believers Bridges Ancient Wisdom and Modern Faith Practice

NEW YORK CITY, NY, UNITED STATES, September 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Author Michel Robillard has released Torah for Modern Messiah Believers, a groundbreaking book that reexamines the Torah through the lens of Yeshua's teachings and offers a fresh, practical roadmap for modern believers.

This nearly 20-year project began with a personal mission: to study and identify the commands of Elohim as recorded in Scripture. While Jewish tradition has long held to a list of 613 mitzvot, Robillard's exhaustive study reveals 875 commands, presenting them with clarity, context, and relevance for today's Messianic and Hebrew Roots communities.

"Knowing Torah is essential for having a proper relationship with the Heavenly Father," Robillard says. "I wrote this book so believers could see the commands clearly, without confusion or distortion, and live them out in a way that reflects the example of Yeshua."

A Fresh Contribution to the Messianic Movement

Torah for Modern Messiah Believers is more than a reference book—it is a bridge between the Torah, the teachings of Messiah, and the writings of His disciples. With accessible explanations, thought-provoking commentary, and a scripture-first focus, the book provides practical application for ancient commands in a modern world. It draws insightful connections between Moses and Yeshua, highlighting continuity across the Bible. It serves as a guide for both new and seasoned believers, offering clarity without diluting depth. And it encourages self-examination and deeper study with questions that invite readers to wrestle with the text.

The foreword, written by Jeffrey Clarke, founder of the Messianic Discipleship Institute and host of The Daily Torah, praises the book as a vital resource for today's Messianic community:
