

Creative Women Forum Saudi Arabia 2025 to Spotlight Women's Leadership, Innovation, and Sustainability in Riyadh

LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, September 8, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- From November 4-6, 2025, Riyadh will host the Creative Women Forum Saudi Arabia, an international gathering under the patronage of HRH Princess Noura bint Saud bin Nayef bin Abdulaziz Al Saud. The event will unite women leaders, entrepreneurs, investors, and cultural influencers from more than 30 countries to advance dialogue on leadership, innovation, and sustainable development.

The Forum will take place at Princess Nourah bint Abdulrahman University, the world's largest women's university, aligning with Saudi Arabia's Vision 2030 and the nation's growing role in promoting gender equity, entrepreneurship, and cross-cultural collaboration.

Guided by four pillars—Empower, Engage, Sustain, Lead—the three-day program will feature over 70 speakers and 500 delegates. Sessions will include keynote addresses, panel discussions, innovation workshops, and networking activities connecting the public, private, and academic sectors.

A Young Entrepreneurs & Students Programme will run alongside the main event, offering reduced ticket rates and platforms for Saudi youth to pitch ideas, join peer discussions, and receive international mentorship. The initiative underscores the Forum's commitment to supporting the next generation of women innovators and leaders.

The closing Gala Dinner & Awards Ceremony will honor outstanding achievements in sustainability, enterprise, cultural innovation, and social impact. The evening will also feature live performances and charitable initiatives, celebrating women who are driving progress across industries.

Key figures behind the Forum include:

HRH Princess Noura bint Saud bin Nayef Al Saud, cultural catalyst and champion of creative ecosystems.

Olga Balakleets, Founder and CEO of the Creative Women International Platform, a global movement spanning more than 50 countries.

Rebeca Riofrio, Executive Director of the Saudi edition, London-based cultural strategist and Queen's Award recipient.

Building on the success of its 2024 debut—which achieved 900+ media features and a reach of over 50 million people—the 2025 edition is set to expand its influence with deeper policy-level engagement and greater international participation.

Confirmed partners and sponsors include Arab National Bank, Saudi Business Council, SIGULP Ltd (UK), AlMashtal Creative Incubator, Rukun Creative Exchange, Jareed Hotel Riyadh, Morini Riyadh, and DHL Express, with additional partnership opportunities currently open.

As Saudi Arabia continues its bold transformation, the Creative Women Forum Saudi Arabia 2025 provides a powerful platform for women to empower one another, connect across borders, and sustain long-term impact on a global scale.
