Neptune's Dynamic Platform & Technology Empowers Wealth Advisors and Investors by Expanding Their Access to the Global Bullion Market

WILMINGTON, DE, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Neptune-GBX, an institutional-grade precious metals trade desk and custodial provider, today announced a new initiative with FNEX, a fintech-enabled investment bank specializing in alternative investments and multi-family office services.

Through this effort, FNEX will facilitate access to Neptune-GBX's secure platform for direct investment grade bullion trading, ownership, insured storage, and portfolio reporting. FNEX's network of financial advisors and multi-family offices can now offer clients physical gold, silver, platinum, and palladium bullion integrated seamlessly into portfolios that meet institutional standards for transparency, custody, performance measurement, and compliance.

"FNEX has established a platform tailored for efficient access to alternatives, and the inclusion of physical precious metals is a natural extension for their advisors and clients," said Christopher Blasi, President of Neptune-GBX. "We are proud to bring trading desk expertise, insured storage, and integrated reporting to help FNEX deliver comprehensive precious metals investment solutions to wealth managers."

"FNEX Alternatives Market was built to give Wealth Managers and RIAs a better way to access, manage, and deliver alternative investments to their clients," said Jon Martin, Head of Marketplace at FNEX. "Our goal with FNEX Alternatives Market is to simplify the complexities of alternatives while equipping advisors with institutional-grade tools. Having Neptune-GBX on the FNEX Alternatives Market allows us to deliver not only a diverse set of opportunities, but also the infrastructure advisors need to administer, report, and safeguard these investments on behalf of their clients."

This initiative reflects both firms' commitment to expanding alternative investment options for advisors and HNW families, delivering seamless, transparent access to precious metals with comprehensive support.
