

Accurate Home and Commercial Services Reaffirms Commitment to Helping Texans Meet Energy Code Compliance

CONROE, TX, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Accurate Home and Commercial Services (AHCS), a licensed and insured provider of residential and commercial inspections and construction services, is reinforcing its role in helping Texans achieve compliance with the International Energy Conservation Code (IECC).

With many municipalities across Texas adopting updated IECC standards, builders and property owners face increasing requirements for energy efficiency, sustainability, and cost-effective construction. AHCS provides independent third-party IECC energy code inspections, offering the verification, documentation, and compliance support necessary to move projects forward without unnecessary delays.

The company's services cover both residential and commercial projects, including REScheck and COMcheck documentation where required. AHCS ensures clients remain compliant with regulations adopted in cities such as Houston, Galveston, Katy, Sugar Land, and Texas City through alignment with local 2015–2024 IECC code versions.

Third-party inspections offered by AHCS deliver more than compliance confirmation. They establish quality assurance, reduce long-term operating costs, and support sustainable construction practices that benefit both property owners and communities.

To extend its reach and make compliance resources more accessible, AHCS partners with Scale by SEO, a digital growth firm that specializes in helping businesses strengthen their online visibility. Through this collaboration, AHCS is able to connect with more builders, developers, and property owners seeking reliable third-party inspection services across Texas.

“Accurate Home and Commercial Services has built a reputation on precision and trust,” said Wayne Lowry, CEO of Scale by SEO. “Our role is to ensure that reputation is seen and heard by the communities they serve. Expanding their digital reach helps AHCS connect with the builders, developers, and property owners who depend on their expertise to stay energy code compliant.”

In addition to energy code compliance services, AHCS offers TAS/ADA inspections, pest control, handyman and construction services, and construction design. The company holds multiple certifications, including ICC Code Certifications, TREC licensure, and Registered Accessibility Specialist (RAS) credentials.
