Interested parties can review the full RFP and submission details at the website: <https://www.viwapa.vi/news-information/business-opportunities>.

WAPA's pursuit of a long-term propane supply partner is designed to stabilize fuel costs, strengthen energy security, and improve overall service reliability. The selected supplier will be expected to demonstrate proven capabilities in the safe transport and delivery of propane across ocean routes, as well as the ability to meet the territory's ongoing energy demands.

This RFP represents a serious and necessary step in safeguarding the energy future of our community.”

Karl Knight, WAPA CEO

"This RFP represents a serious and necessary step in safeguarding the energy future of our community," said

Karl Knight, chief executive officer and executive director of the Virgin Islands Water and Power Authority. "Securing a stable, long-term propane supply means we can better control costs, protect against fuel volatility and deliver more reliable power to the people of the Virgin Islands. This is not just a procurement process - it's a commitment to the resilience and well-being of our territory."

WAPA is encouraging all qualified suppliers to submit proposals in accordance with the RFP requirements and deadlines, including the Site Tour Registration deadline of Friday, September 19, 2025.
