Located in a meticulously restored Civil War-era building, Mac's Chophouse offers a timeless steakhouse experience. The venue features two distinct dining areas: The Lookout, for refined white-cloth dining with sweeping views of Glover Park, and The Hangout, a more casual space with an oversized bar and a menu of exquisite small plates. The restaurant's menu showcases USDA Certified Prime steaks, sustainable seafood, and locally sourced ingredients, all prepared with an unwavering commitment to quality.

"We believe that every special occasion—especially the holidays—deserves to be truly celebrated," said Randy McCray, co-owner of Mac's Chophouse. "Our goal is to provide a setting where our guests can relax, connect with their loved ones, and enjoy a truly exceptional meal. We're proud to be a part of our guests' most cherished memories, whether they're joining us for a family dinner or hosting their company's holiday party."

With the busy holiday season approaching, Mac's Chophouse is an ideal choice for a stress-free and memorable dining experience. The restaurant will be open on Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve, and New Year's Eve, allowing guests to celebrate with family and friends without the hassle of cooking or cleanup.

In addition to holiday dining, Mac's Chophouse is now accepting reservations for private events. The venue's dedicated event spaces, including The Loft and the Board Room, can accommodate intimate gatherings and large celebrations, offering a sophisticated backdrop for corporate functions, rehearsal dinners, and holiday parties. The professional event team works with clients to create custom menus and ensure a seamless, unforgettable event.

Guests are highly encouraged to book reservations early for all holiday dining and private events, as space is limited.
