

IPS Corporation selects Legacy as 3PL Partner to drive Supply Chain Transformation

Legacy announced that it has been selected by IPS Corp, a global leader in Water Flow Management and Specialty Adhesive Solutions, as its new (3PL) partner.

COLLIERVILLE, TN, UNITED STATES, September 11, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Legacy SCS

From day one, Legacy has delivered the expertise and partnership we were looking for,”

Tim Jumper, Vice President of Operations - IPS

announced that it has been selected by IPS Corporation, a global leader in Water Flow Management and Specialty Adhesive Solutions, as its new third-party logistics (3PL) partner. IPS chose Legacy following a formal RFP process to transform its U.S. distribution operations, and support the company’s aggressive supply chain strategies.

IPS sought a high-touch, culturally aligned provider with proven operational expertise to be a partner in their growth strategy. Legacy was selected based on three core commitments:

- immediate warehouse operational performance improvements
- a tailored and scalable solution and;
- long-term value creation

“I am honored to have IPS trust Legacy as a value-added supply chain operator, and thank our team for their diligence in building this tailored solution,” said Mike Glodziak, President & CEO of Legacy Supply Chain. “Our leadership approach and investment in transformation, connectivity and long-term partnership mirrors the way IPS approaches their own business.”

In just the first 60 days of operations at IPS’s Collierville, TN distribution center, Legacy has delivered immediate, measurable improvements:

- Successful Go-Live: Seamless transition with zero employee turnover
- Quality Gains: Claims reduced by more than 50%
- Cost Control: 34 percentage point improvement in optimal carrier selection
- Operational Efficiency: Implementation of 24-hour dock-to-stock processes

Legacy’s approach to every customer relationship is guided by three key pillars: enabling Connected Intelligence, delivering Transformational Impact, and building Right-Sized Partnerships. For IPS, this means improving performance and reducing risk, building technology-enabled operations that connect people and processes in real-time, and designing a solution scaled precisely to IPS's growth strategy.

"From day one, Legacy has delivered the expertise and partnership we were looking for," said Tim Jumper, Vice President of Operations for IPS. "They understood our supply chain dynamics and immediately put the right experts and systems in place to drive measurable results. We see them as an extension of our team, committed to our long-term success."
