pet euthanasia is the best experience for dogs and cats and their families because their home is where they feel most familiar and comfortable. Dr. Brian Ortman will be serving Columbia and the surrounding areas.

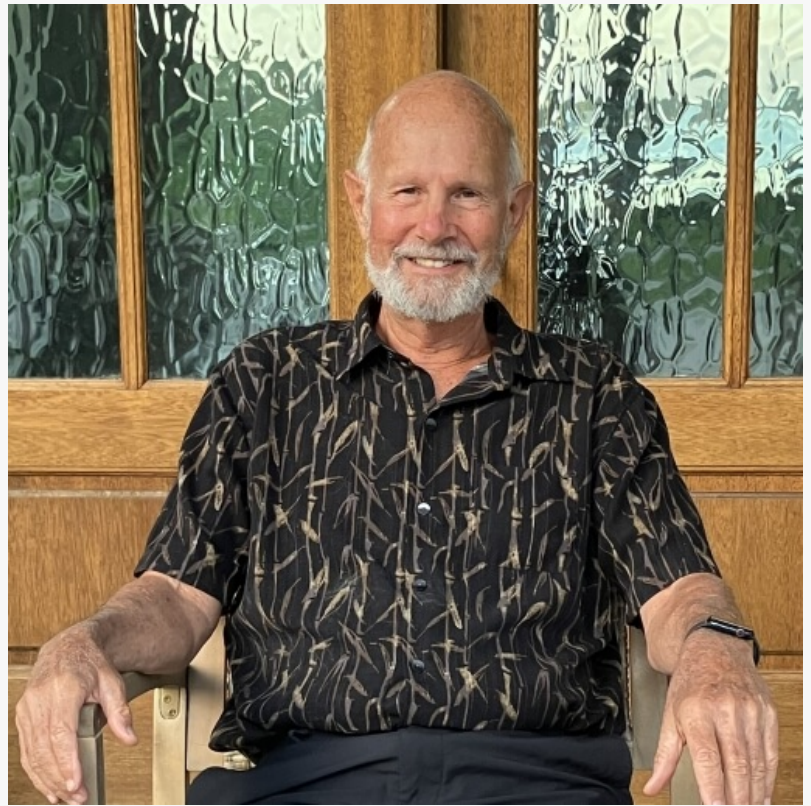

“It’s my wish that every family in Columbia becomes aware that in-home euthanasia is an option so they have an opportunity to provide a final gift of love to their beloved pet,” says Dr. Gary Hsia. “I was fortunate enough to be able to experience this with my dog, Kylie, a few years earlier, surrounded by family. It really reduced her anxiety and helped my young kids bid farewell to their first dog. She was able to pass peacefully in the comfort of our home, doing what she loved most, sunny bathing in the grass.”

Dr. Gary Hsia, Dr. Bethany Hsia, and Dr. Karen Whals are co-founders and veterinarians of CodaPet. They share a passion for increasing both customer access and awareness by empowering a network of veterinarians who provide compassion and professional care to more pets and their families in a familiar environment.

“In-home euthanasia offers families and their beloved pet peace and dignity through this difficult and emotional experience. CodaPet exemplifies professionalism and integrity with flexibility in all phases of the experience," says Dr. Brian Ortman. Dr. Ortman brings decades of experience in both veterinary medicine and public service to his role with CodaPet. A graduate of Purdue University and Louisiana State University College of Veterinary Medicine, Dr. Ortman began his career in mixed-animal practice before transitioning into practice ownership and later serving 24 years as a U.S. Air Force public health officer. Following his military retirement, he returned to companion animal care, where he has continued to focus on supporting families and their pets during life's most meaningful moments.

Rooted in his upbringing on a diverse Indiana farm, Dr. Ortman has spent a lifetime caring for animals, from livestock to beloved pets. He understands the profound bond families share with their pets and the unique challenge that comes with saying goodbye. Recognizing the need for compassionate, affordable end-of-life care in the Columbia, SC area, he is dedicated to helping families navigate this emotional time with dignity, peace, and empathy.

Dr. Ortman serves Chapin, Columbia, Prosperity, Lexington, and the surrounding areas.

Benefits of In-home Pet Euthanasia include:

1. Compassion: In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more compassionate approach to end-of-life care. Pets can be surrounded by their loved ones, receive individual attention and care, and pass away peacefully in a familiar environment.
2. Comfort: One of the most significant benefits of in-home pet euthanasia is the comfort it provides to both the pet and their owners. The familiar surroundings of home can help reduce anxiety and stress for pets, making the process more peaceful. Additionally, being surrounded by loved ones can provide a sense of comfort and support during a difficult time.
3. Closure: Being able to say goodbye in a meaningful way can be an essential part of the grieving process. In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more intimate farewell, which can provide closure and help with the healing process.

4. Control: In-home pet euthanasia also allows pet owners to have more control over the process. They can choose the time and place of the euthanasia, as well as who will be present. This can help alleviate feelings of powerlessness and allow for a more personalized experience. In addition, in-home euthanasia allows owners to personalize the experience, including choosing the location, music, lighting, and other factors that can make the experience more meaningful.

How In-home Pet Euthanasia Works

Through CodaPet, pet parents can easily book in-home pet euthanasia performed by a compassionate and licensed veterinarian. Prior to the appointment, the veterinarian contacts the family to address any questions or concerns they might have. At the appointment, the veterinarian assists the family by going over the diagnosis and applying a quality-of-life assessment to objectively assess the pet's health and ensure there is no uncertainty about the need for euthanasia.

The visit takes, on average, 45 minutes. Pet parents have a window of time to be with their pets privately before and after the euthanasia procedure. The veterinarian only starts the euthanasia process when everyone is ready. This helps bring closure to all family members involved in the end-of-life care of a pet. For those who need support with aftercare, the veterinarian can assist with transportation and cremation services.

In-home Pet Euthanasia Costs

The cost of in-home euthanasia starts at $350 in Columbia, SC. Aftercare ranges from $100 - $100, but the final price depends on factors such as the driving distance, the pet's size, and the option for private or communal cremation. The company also offers out-of-hours appointments for an additional fee.
