

Sisters of the Valley Break the Dispensary Barrier

Sixty-Day Count-down to Los Angeles Product Launch Starts Today

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, September 15, 2025 / EINPresswire.com/ -- The Sisters of the Valley, known worldwide as the 'weed nuns', are bringing their mission of plant-based healing and compassionate activism to Los Angeles.

In partnership with Catalyst and Traditional (dispensary operators), the Sisters' products will finally appear in California dispensaries.

Today marks the beginning of a sixty day march toward launch. To prepare for that event, the sisters will be visiting select locations between September 24 and the 28th in order to get to know the budtenders who will be representing their products to the public.

This is a significant event in the history of the sisterhood. Sister Kate, the founder of the Sisterhood, explains, "For nearly ten years, we were kept out of dispensaries. But through common cause activism against corruption, a powerful alliance was forged. Together with Catalyst and Traditional, we broke the barrier that locked us out."
