Miss Fabulous America Queens 2024

"Pageantry at its best is purpose-driven," said Jocelyn Correa Bett, of Optimize Media Marketing and co-founder of Las Vegas Spotlights. "By welcoming Las Vegas real estate professionals to the spotlight, we're highlighting the neighborhoods, schools, small businesses, and quality of life that make relocating here such a smart move. The stage is an amplifier—for stories that help families choose Las Vegas as home."

"Real estate agents are on the front lines of community building," said Ellen Stokes, Founder of Miss Fabulous America and Project Fabulous (501(c)(3)). "Their participation puts authentic neighborhood insight center stage—from parks and schools to small-business corridors—so Americans considering a move can see the real Las Vegas beyond the Strip."

Why Real Estate Agents Should Participate

- Elevate Your Local Brand: Earn media visibility, on-stage features, and professional photo/video assets for social, your website, and Google Business Profile.
- Champion Your Neighborhoods: Share firsthand knowledge of schools, HOA amenities, commute times, and lifestyle options—positioning yourself as a trusted relocation advisor.
- Network for Growth: Connect with civic leaders, media, and small-business owners aligned with Las Vegas' expansion and community development.
- Recruit & Refer: Help out-of-state buyers envision life here—accelerating referrals and pipeline opportunities.

Community-First, Relocation-Forward

The Miss Fabulous America program emphasizes personal platforms and community service. In Las Vegas, that means shining a light on Shop • Dine • Play • Live • Work • Give—a holistic lens that pairs the city's iconic attractions with its vibrant neighborhoods, diversified economy, and family-friendly amenities. Through collaborative media with Las Vegas Spotlights, select participants will be featured in short-form interviews and local guides that help newcomers make confident relocation decisions.
