

Gutterglove® Marks 25 Years of Innovation in Home Protection

FRANKLIN, TN, UNITED STATES,

September 16, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Gutterglove®, manufacturer of the Nation's Most Trusted Gutter Guards®, enters its 25th year with a continued focus on protecting homes and improving gutter performance.

Gutterglove began in 1996 as a small, local gutter cleaning service. While cleaning millions of feet of gutters, the team consistently encountered low-quality gutter guards that often needed to be removed. In 2000, Gutterglove was incorporated after recognizing there was a significant gap in the market: gutter guards were not functioning as promised. By 2003, Gutterglove had produced its first gutter guard—built with superior materials, customer needs in mind, and a design that would lead to an extensive portfolio of patented technology. Gutterglove now proudly operates nationally with facilities located in California and Tennessee and remains committed to its vision to protect every gutter on every home. To date, Gutterglove has helped protect over 1.5 million homes with premium gutter protection solutions.

"Reaching this 25-year milestone is a testament to the relentless passion of our team and the trust our customers have in us," said Matt Smith, CEO of Gutterglove. "From day one, we've focused on delivering excellence and solving real problems for homeowners and professional contractors—and that mission continues to guide us today, built around our core philosophy of We Care."

At Gutterglove, care is at the core of everything the company does, driven by its dedicated team members. Gutterglove's culture is centered on people and making a positive impact on the individuals and communities it serves. This commitment extends beyond delivering a protective product, encompassing the relationships Gutterglove builds with its customers, vendors, and the communities where it operates.

Motivated by a commitment to excellence, integrity, and a spirit of generosity, Gutterglove continues to push boundaries in the home improvement space. Today, the company serves both DIY customers and professional contractors with a comprehensive line of products designed to protect any home, regardless of roof type or gutter size.

Gutterglove's do-it-yourself solutions are available at major retailers, including Costco, The Home Depot, Lowe's, and Amazon. For contractors, the LeafBlaster Pro® product line offers top-tier gutter protection and is distributed nationally through building supply outlets such as QXO, ABC Supply, Lansing, and SRS.

With a steadfast mission to protect every gutter on every home, Gutterglove continues to innovate in product design and customer support programs. The company currently holds multiple patents, trademarks, and copyrights across its brands and remains focused on developing innovative products, programs, and technology that bring long-term value to homeowners and industry professionals alike.

About Gutterglove

Gutterglove® is an innovator in the home improvement space focused on people, products, programs, and technology. They manufacture gutter guards and accessories designed to protect any home, regardless of roof type or gutter size, with both do-it-yourself and professionally installed product options. Their innovation extends beyond products into new programs and technology that deliver seamless support to customers and contractors nationwide.

Gutterglove started in 1996 as a small, local gutter cleaning service. While cleaning millions of feet of gutters, the team repeatedly encountered low-quality gutter guards that often had to be removed. Frustrated by the lack of reliable options to recommend to their customers, they decided to invent their own. In 2000, Gutterglove was officially incorporated with a mission to design and deliver a superior gutter protection solution—one that would help homeowners safeguard their homes from the dangers of clogged gutters. Gutterglove explored new designs, the best materials, and customers' needs to create an extensive, patented portfolio of the highest quality gutter guards available. Gutterglove is proud to offer the Nation's Most Trusted Gutter Guards®. For more information, please visit www.gutterglove.com.
