

Kryptos Enterprise Launches as the Financial Backbone of Web3's $4 Trillion Digital Asset Economy

Billion-dollar crypto companies managing treasury in spreadsheets. Kryptos Enterprise just launched to fix Web3's impending financial problem.

SWEDEN, September 16, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Kryptos, a leading innovator in decentralized financial infrastructure, announced the launch of Kryptos Enterprise, a comprehensive financial operating system aimed at solving critical infrastructure challenges within the $4 trillion digital asset industry.

Kryptos Enterprise - The ALL-in-ONE OS Stack for Web3 Teams !

Despite the massive scale of digital assets globally, a recent survey of CFOs reveals that more than 95% of companies still rely on spreadsheets to manage their digital asset operations. This antiquated approach creates significant operational risks, compliance gaps, and inefficiencies for businesses operating in the rapidly evolving Web3 ecosystem.

We're the Plaid for Web3, providing the financial infrastructure layer that scales with the complexity and growth demands of digital-native businesses.”

Sukesh Tedla, Founder & CEO, Kryptos.

Kryptos Enterprise addresses this industry-wide challenge by offering businesses with digital assets a one-stop shop solution. The platform consolidates accounting, treasury management, payroll, audits, and real-time reporting into one SOC 1 & SOC 2-compliant stack, making enterprise-grade finance accessible, auditable, and automated.

With 5,000+ integrations and seamless multi-chain coverage, Kryptos Enterprise enables organizations to:

- Automate compliance-ready financial reporting

- Track SAFT agreements and token vesting with first-of-its-kind transparency
- Run payroll and invoicing workflows with regulatory compliance
- Generate audit-ready ledgers and financial insights in real time
- Access dedicated enterprise support for mission-critical operations

"Kryptos Enterprise is the financial OS for digital assets, offering businesses a one-stop shop solution. The $4 trillion digital asset industry deserves better than spreadsheet management," said Suresh Tedla, Founder & CEO, Kryptos.

As crypto compliance needs continue to grow with new regulations like the Genius Act, DAC8, and CARF, Kryptos is uniquely positioned to support businesses of all sizes in navigating this evolving regulatory landscape. The platform ensures regulatory compliance across 35+ jurisdictions while delivering enterprise-grade security and precision.

Already trusted by 100+ Web3 enterprises and used in 35+ countries, Kryptos supports leading protocols, DAOs, and infrastructure teams by uniting financial clarity with operational scalability.
