Phil Wickham Song of the Saints All Dates

The announcement comes on the heels of Wickham's brand-new album, Song of the Saints, out now. Already featuring hit singles "Homesick for Heaven" and "What An Awesome God," the record also introduces powerful new worship anthems that are sure to become fan-favorites.

Tauren Wells joins the tour following the success of his recent collaboration with Elevation Rhythm, "Let the Church Sing," as well as his bestselling debut book Joy Bomb, while Jamie MacDonald brings her fresh voice to the stage, with her latest release, "Left It In The River," already resonating strongly with listeners.

"With the release of my new album, Song Of The Saints, I couldn't wait to get dates on the calendar to sing these songs with the church," said Wickham. "I feel a stronger stirring than I ever have before that we need to gather and raise the banner of Jesus high. There is a darkness-shaking, soul-waking, heaven-moving power in our collective song of faith. These nights are not about a show or a concert, but about the people of God shouting the praises of God in the presence of God. I am convinced we will witness eternal life-change on these nights—freedom, healing, salvation, joy, and hope—as we call on the Name above all names. Bring anyone and everyone you know who needs to know and experience the love of God in a fresh way. I can't wait to be with you all. Much love!"

"I couldn't be more excited for the Song of the Saints tour with Phil and Tauren," added MacDonald. "These are two artists I've looked up to for a long time, so it's extra special for me and such an honor to be a part!"

Presented by World Vision, Song of the Saints Tour will bring communities together across the country for unforgettable nights of worship. Tickets go on sale to the general public on Thursday, October 2nd, while an exclusive password protected pre-sale begins Monday, September 29th.
