

Mary Kutter Announces Fall 2025 'Breakout Tour'

Rising Country Voice Brings Viral Hits to Intimate Venues Across the Southeast and Midwest

NASHVILLE, MO, UNITED STATES,
September 18, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Following a summer of viral momentum and packed performances, Kentucky-born and Nashville-based country artist Mary Kutter is set to launch her highly anticipated "Breakout Tour." Spanning November, the tour will stop at iconic venues across the Southeast and Midwest, giving fans an up-close opportunity to connect with one of country music's most compelling new voices.

Mary Kutter Announces Fall 2025 "Breakout Tour"

What truly distinguishes Mary's artistry is her willingness to explore complex, personal narratives. These songs resonate deeply because they speak truth, regardless of commercial appeal.”

The Breakout Tour builds on the runaway success of Kutter's viral anthems "The Devil Wore a Lab Coat" and "Devil's Money," which have racked up more than 60 million views combined across TikTok, Instagram, YouTube, and Facebook. With platinum and gold songwriting credits already to her name for Nate Smith, Bailey Zimmerman, and Alexandra Kay, Mary is stepping into her own spotlight as an artist whose raw storytelling resonates deeply with working-class America.

Two Historic Moments on the Tour

- Friday, September 19 – Tulsa, OK | BOK Center
Mary Kutter will open for Country Legend Hank Williams Jr.

in her first-ever arena performance. This special invitation follows her acclaimed opening performance for Hank Jr. earlier this year at the legendary Full Throttle Saloon during the Sturgis Motorcycle Rally.

- Tuesday, November 11 – Bowling Green, KY | SKyPAC

As part of her own tour, Mary will also open for Southern rock icons 38 Special during their 50th Anniversary Tour — uniting two generations of music fans for an unforgettable night.
