

Tackling Carpet Moth Infestations in Hampshire - Protecting Homes and Businesses from Hidden Carpet Damage

Carpet moths eat away at wool carpets silently – until you spot bald patches too late. Don't let them destroy your home!

SOUTHAMPTON, HAMPSHIRE, UNITED KINGDOM, September 18, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Carpet moth infestations are becoming an increasingly common problem for households and businesses across Hampshire. From Southampton and

Winchester to Portsmouth, Fareham, and Basingstoke, homeowners are noticing unexplained bald patches, thinning areas, and fibre loss in their carpets. The culprit? Carpet moth larvae feeding on natural fibres such as wool. Hampshire Carpet and Upholstery Care, a trusted husband-and-wife team, is stepping forward with professional carpet moth treatment and cleaning solutions to help protect homes and restore peace of mind.

The Growing Problem of Carpet Moths

Carpet moths may be small, but the damage they cause can be devastating. Their larvae feed on natural fibres found in wool carpets, rugs, and upholstery. They often hide beneath furniture or deep in the pile of carpets, making them difficult to detect until serious damage has already occurred. Left untreated, infestations spread quickly, leaving behind threadbare patches and ruined flooring that can be expensive to replace.

“Many of our customers don’t realise they have carpet moths until it’s too late,” explains Richard, co-owner of Hampshire Carpet and Upholstery Care. “They may notice a worn patch or loose fibres, only to find that the larvae have already been eating away for months. Acting quickly is key to stopping the damage and preventing a re-infestation."

Signs You May Have Carpet Moths

- Homeowners in Hampshire are encouraged to stay alert for common warning signs of carpet moth damage:
  - Irregular bare patches on carpets or rugs, especially in darker, hidden areas.
  - Loose carpet fibres or piles that appear thin and patchy.
  - Tiny moth casings or larvae in corners, under furniture, or near skirting boards.
  - Moths flying in low-light areas, often close to floors rather than ceilings.
