Scott Sampson, Chief Revenue Officer, Securonix (L to R)

"We're proud to partner with Securonix, a recognized leader in the SIEM space," said Ilyas Mohammed, COO at AmiViz. "As cyber threats evolve in complexity, our focus remains on delivering intelligent, scalable security solutions that empower our partners and clients. Securonix's AI-based capabilities are a powerful addition to our portfolio."

Built for modern security teams, Securonix equips organizations with a unified platform that detects threats, analyzes behavior, and responds at machine speed. Designed for the cloud, powered by agentic AI and built to scale, it empowers global enterprises and government agencies to stay resilient in a constantly shifting threat landscape.

"We're excited to work with AmiViz to expand our footprint in the region," said Ajay Biyani, Vice President - APMEA, Securonix. "Their deep expertise and strong presence make them an ideal partner to deliver our next-generation security operations platform to organizations navigating today's dynamic threat landscape."

As digital transformation accelerates, this partnership positions both companies to support enterprises seeking proactive, AI-enhanced cybersecurity strategies in an era of growing digital risk.
